Elba City Council Facing Grave Financial Problems

The Elba City Council met Tuesday night for a very brief meeting and without Councilman D.M. English, who was reportedly sick. The meeting was late starting and was over before 8:30. The delay was caused by Mayor Folsom's having to assist two Federal marshals with some details of an investigation.

Mrs. Drexel Kelley and daughter, Susie, were present and requesting the City sponsor Susie in a national contest. The cost of the sponsorship was $225, and they were told it was not legal to spend tax money on such private projects. Mrs. Kelley said if she had known this, she would not have asked.

Mrs. Frances Bradshaw was present representing the Deep South Racking Horse Association. She asked for and received a resolution from the Elba City Council reserving Legion Field for the annual racking horse show during the last weekend in May. The resolution will include a statement that the field is available every year for this purpose until a special arena is constructed by the City for such activities. The resolution was approved unanimously.

Bill and Mildred Morrow, and A.C. and Elizabeth Brunson attended the meeting to protest loud, profane language, squealing car tires, etc., at the Riverside game room. Mr. Morrow said it had no police supervision, and people stood out beside the road yelling loud foul language at all hours of the night.

Mayor Bob Folsom agreed it was bad, and the police would do a better job beginning immediately. He added this was the same type people that were at the Bluegrass festival last weekend. He added "we don't want any more of that kind of carrying on in Elba." Folsom said he went "out there" with the mosquito spray truck Saturday night.

Folsom added that the Coffee County Health Department was "too busy" to investigate a "fly and maggot factory" behind the Big Bear. He said he had complained to the Health Department several times, but they wouldn't do anything about it. He said all they wanted to do was fuss about a chicken yard at the end of Plant Avenue that was as clean as a pin. Folsom said he advised the owner of the chicken yard to not do away with his chicken yard just yet.

The Council was told of a $60,000 transfer of funds made by the Light & Water Board to the City in a special meeting at 6:30 Tuesday night. The Council then voted to make a $60,000 down payment on the purchase of the Elba Exchange Bank building being purchased for a city hall. It is expected the building will be available by July 1.

Overdrawn bank accounts made it necessary to transfer about $13,000 of funds. Actually, the Council transferred $23,000 to have enough to make the payroll Friday. The sewer operating, cigarette (recreation) and general fund were overspent. Money was transferred from the Sewer Reserve, Gasoline Excise Reserve, T-Hangar rent and Airport funds. Councilman Jimmy Wise pointed out that the Cigarette Fund would be able to repay the loan in a few months.

The Council voted to meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday, July 8, to canvass the votes in the city election and to post the official winners.

A discussion on the need to cut spending didn't lead to any decision. A suggestion was made to cut some services for a few months. Folsom said the City could save money by charging for hauling off only one load of trash per household and charging for the extra. He stated they hauled off eleven loads of tree limbs from one house in Brookdale.

The Council was told of a $60,000 transfer of funds made by the Light & Water Board to the City in a special meeting at 6:30 Tuesday night. The Council then voted to make a $60,000 down payment on the purchase of the Elba Exchange Bank building being purchased for a city hall. It is expected the building will be available by July 1.

The Council meets again on July 1.

Citizens Alerted About Rabies

Being bitten by a rabid animal... few public health problems create a feeling of fear quite like this one does. Even knowing there is a rabid animal nearby often causes much apprehension and confusion.

However, each year, without fail, many rabies cases are reported throughout the state of Alabama. Positive rabies in animals in the state increased from 13 in 1977 and 53 in 1978 to 73 in 1979.

In 1979 rabies was found in 25 counties in seven different species of animals: skunks, bats, raccoons, foxes, dogs, cats and a horse.

Rabies was endemic in skunks in North Alabama counties adjoining Tennessee, while foxes and raccoons carried rabies in Southeast Alabama counties along the Florida and Georgia state lines. Rabies was found in bats throughout the state and nation.

The Alabama Department of Public Health offers these suggestions for the control of rabies:

1. All dogs, cats and valuable livestock should be immunized at once as the first step in controlling an outbreak in areas where positive rabies has been reported.
2. Contacts with wild animals, especially raccoons and skunks, and with stray dogs and cats should be avoided.
3. Any strange or abnormal behavior in animals should be reported to a veterinarian or local health department immediately.
4. Wild animals should not be kept as pets.
5. Bite victims should be reported to the county or district health officer so that appropriate measures can be taken to quarantine or destroy the biting animal.

6. If wild or exotic animals and stray or unwanted dogs and cats are exposed to a rabid animal, they should be destroyed at once and the head sent to the nearest state health department laboratory.

7. Dogs and cats that have bitten human beings must be placed in quarantine with a licensed veterinarian for 10 days. If symptoms suggestive of rabies develop, the animal should be destroyed and handled as described earlier.

8. Unvaccinated dogs and cats bitten by known rabid animals should be destroyed and buried or burned immediately. If the owner is unwilling, the animal should be vaccinated immediately and placed in strict isolation for six months.

9. Livestock bitten by a known rabid animal should be slaughtered immediately. The exposed animal can be safely killed and the tissues eaten if the animal is slaughtered within seven days after being bitten. If the livestock owner is unwilling to slaughter the animal, it should be vaccinated immediately and placed in strict confinement for six months.

10. Contact the state public health veterinarian at the Alabama Department of Public Health in Montgomery, telephone 832-3186, so that full information can be provided to other regulatory agencies.

Rabies clinics are scheduled throughout Alabama and the immunization fee at county clinics is generally below the usual veterinarian fee.

Two Residents Of County Bitten

The Coffee County Health Department reports that two residents of the county are presently undergoing treatment for exposure to suspected rabid animals. Richard Brown, Environmentalist for the Coffee County Health Department points out that the reason the cases are suspected instead of confirmed is because the animals were destroyed or allowed to get away.

This treatment is expensive - it is determined by body weight - and also has some risk involved, Brown says. Any person who receives a bite or scratch from any animal, domestic or wild, which breaks the skin or is in the area of an open wound or sore, should first flush with water, then clean with soap and water and/or disinfectant, then contact their physician.

The county rabies officer and local health department should be notified regarding the bite and for instruction for proper procedure for handling the animal.

Proper handling of the animal after a bite is extremely important. If the animal must be killed, do not do so by a blow or shot to the head, as the brain must be examined to determine if positive or negative. The head should be removed by a veterinarian, packaged properly and sent or delivered to the state lab.

Extreme care should be taken in handling any dead animal, to avoid contact with saliva, blood, etc.

County Politics Are Underway

Candidates qualified at press time for the Democratic primary are Ronnie Burris, Revenue Commissioner; Gilmer Grant, incumbent, and Leon Smart, Commissioner, District 1; Rex Boutwell, Commissioner, District 3; Don Smith, incumbent, and Eugene Bradley, Commissioner, District 4, Place 1; Bennie Beckham, incumbent, District 4, Place 2; Maxwell Reeves, incumbent, and Marvin Bowden, Commissioner, District 4, Place 3.

No candidates have qualified for Commissioner, District 2, nor for the two school board places up for re-election. Commissioner Jack Hornsby has indicated he will not be a candidate for re-election in District 2.

David Stokes To Seek Council Post

David L. Stokes, 30, a resident of North Claxton Avenue, has announced his candidacy for Place 4 on the Elba City Council. A native of Elba, Stokes is married to the former Suzanne Prior, and they have two children, Jake, 4 and Anna, 2. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stokes and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McDowell, all of Elba.

Stokes is employed with the Elba City Schools as the Trade and Industrial Education Coordinator. A graduate of the University of Alabama, he has a master's degree from Troy State University. Locally, he is a member of the Jaycees and is vice-president of the Coffee County Alabama Alumni Association. The Stokes' attend the Elba Methodist Church.

This is Stokes' first bid for public office in Elba. He believes that his youth and his day-to-day contact with the citizens of Elba are assets to his being a city councilman. If elected, Stokes promises to fulfill the obligations of the office to the best of his abilities.

FIRST DEPOSIT in the new banking facility of the Elba Exchange Bank was made Monday morning by Harper and Connie Grant in the account of Grant Brothers Grocery. Harper said he made his first deposit in the Elba bank in 1939, and wanted to be the first to make a deposit in the new facility.

The deposit slip prepared by bank president, Oscar Vaughan, was for "Two Kegs of Coins." No amount was instead as none of the participants had any idea how much money was in the two nail kegs.

The kegs originally contained 100 pounds of nails each, but watching the straining of bankers unloading the coins, bystanders predicted each would weigh in excess of 200 pounds. Vaughan said it would be several days before counting would be completed, even with their automatic coin counting machine.

A one-car accident Saturday injured the driver and lone occupant of the car, Mrs. Reba Morris was taken to the Elba General Hospital by the Elba Rescue Squad after she lost control and overturned on the Old River Road. Her injuries were described by rescue workers at the scene as "not real serious."

Federal Officials

Visit Elba Dam

Site

Federal and state officials visited Elba last Thursday to make official the $31,000 loan to Elba for a feasibility study on the Elba hydroelectric plant. The project is to determine if it is possible to put the plant back into operation and generate up to half the normal electric power used by the City of Elba. The study should be completed by March, 1981.

Dr. Louis Centofanti, with the U.S. Department of Energy in Atlanta, was present and officially presented the check for half the loan to Elba Mayor Robert Folsom. He pointed out that if the project is shown to be unfeasible, 90% of the loan very probably will be "forgiven", or will not have to be paid back. He also said it was highly possible that by the time any construction funds are needed, there will be some grant funds available, and if not, plenty of loan money will surely be available from both government and private sources.

Centofanti said this was the first such project funded in the Southeast and gave credit for this to Folsom. He said Folsom was calling and writing until it approved.

Ed Hudspeth, Director, State Energy Department, said he was excited about the project because, "We are headed for a bad energy crisis and such projects as this can help." He noted that if such a crisis hits, politicians will catch it from the voters and will look quickly for some started project that can be funded quickly. Under such conditions, the Elba project could be in line for considerable free money to get federal officials "off the hook" with the voters.

On hand for the announcement at a luncheon Thursday was Representative Jimmy Holley, several interested parties and about eight news media representatives invited by Folsom. However, this is the same loan previously mentioned in this newspaper.

POOR ORIGINAL

BRAINSTORMS

The new Exchange Bank building is very impressive to the folks who were in the crowd at the open house Sunday. We heard comment after comment about the "impressive" building and furnishings. In a time when the news is filled with tales of bad turns in the economy, we see this building as a positive point in the mix of thoughts that make up the mental attitudes of the people who will make our community grow and prosper regardless of the ups and downs of the world.

County politics got started officially last Saturday, even though prospective candidates have been lining up support for months. The surprise to ye ole editor was the low turnout of candidates, and even members of the Coffee County Democratic committee. We don't remember when such an official meeting has drawn such a small number of people. Even at presstime there was still one commissioner slot without a candidate!

The Elba Recreation Department is sponsoring a Father-Son fishing tournament Saturday at the county pond, and I have already picked out the place Chris and I are going to display our first-place trophy! The state game warden has promised to help run the event, but maybe he doesn't know how long I have been fattening up one ole big luncheon out there and waiting for just such an event.

Talk of fishing reminds me of a request we had several weeks ago. Gus McCall suggested that all these "expert" bass fishermen who catch more of the big bass than they need, could keep them alive and give them to the folks at the Elba County Club to assist in improving the balance of bass to bream. Since ye ole editor is not among the experts, we can only send out the appeal to others.

The City Library fund is shooting for $15,000 to remodel the newly-purchased facilities, and Tuesday morning the figure reached $6,300 and the fund-raisers have barely gotten started. We are amazed that even in such economic times, folks in Elba are looking forward enough to put forth the money to make the facility a reality.

The 2nd Annual Bluegrass Festival was a big success for the Elba Jaycees, and true to my promise, ye ole editor went out there all three days. We walked around all over the place to see just what was happening, cause we had never been to one of those events. We were impressed with several aspects, including the way folks who follow Bluegrass know how to be comfortable, with chairs, blankets and kicking off their shoes. The young children running around playing were not upsetting anyone; and the presence of two uniformed sheriff's deputies throughout the event left a feeling of security to the fans and to us parents who know our children were still there after we left. We salute the Jaycees and all who worked with them to make it a success and another "good thing" to say about Elba.

Well the City Council was told Tuesday night that city money had run out and there just wasn't one cent left in it to fish out the fiscal year. Some cuts are needed - everyone has agreed - but so far none have been made. We saw this coming several months ago, and heard city officials admit it was true, but nothing was done. We regret this because now the necessary cuts will hurt even worse than if they had been done earlier and "a little along."

We are shocked to hear that property reappraisal is coming again! We are still trying to pay for the last court-ordered reappraisal, and to straighten out the fouled-up records, when we get the word from Montgomery that we are going to go through another statewide reappraisal... it is terrible. At least, this time, we can make our own mess, and hopefully do it cheaper.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Cox:
I realize that my theories about education will probably have about as much impact on the world as an extra quart of water going over Niagara Falls - nevertheless, in this article, I wish to address the Flag of Education.

I'm not pretending to be Francis Scott Key, and realistically speaking, I have not yet seen the flag of which I speak. I've only heard and read accounts of its existence. What meaneth this new ensign waving in the breeze alongside the Stars and Stripes of Old Glory? Does it mean that educators have finally been recognized as a truly professional organization, or does it mean that now, instead of just waving our arms, we can wave our very own flag? If nothing else - it means that we now have something official to burn ceremoniously when we protest against the injustices done to our organizations and institutes.

It could be just the fulfillment of a Federal regulation; as many of you know, we now have a Department of Education at the Federal level, and it's just possible that, in order to establish an official department as such, there must be a fitting emblem to represent its objectives and philosophies. For whatever the reason, we now have it, so let's wave it, salute it and repeat pledges in its presence. But before we do, let's examine the characters imprinted on our new emblem.

I'm told that an acorn, an oak tree and the sun are the items decorating this new banner. When I first heard about the acorn, I thought, how appropriate, a fitting representation indeed for all those nuts in higher education's bureaucracy. You know - those birds that set up the requirements for certification. It appears that under our present system of requirements, our classrooms will be filled with science teachers who know all about statistics in education but are sadly deficient in their subject matter; history teachers whose original enthusiasm for knowledge about accurate incidents that shaped our country's development, has long been dampened by endless hours of boredom as they agonized through another 5-hour course of busy work and theories that are about as useful in teaching history as a banana is in destroying an anvil; English teachers who are experts in the field of educational philosophy, but cannot conjugate a verb or interpret Shakespeare; Biology teachers who are well-versed in the psychological foundations of education but don't even know that ontogeny recapitulates phylogeny.

This list could continue indefinitely, but what about the oak tree on the emblem? It could represent all the "And perhaps when we see it, we can recite these allusions: 'I pledge allegiance to the flag of education and to the advancement of knowledge, freedom and democracy for which it stands.' And, may we never forget that it was God who made the acorn, the oak tree and the sun."

So, let us be proud of our newly-ordained banner as it is hoisted up thousands of flag poles in various institutions of learning. Let us hope that it will cause all people to "rally round the flag" and support public education. May this flag never have to be flown at half mast. May it forever stand as a reminder of what has been accomplished by education and remain as a constant challenge to defeat the ignorance, prejudices and injustices which still threaten our free society.

Around The Town

Mrs. Nellie B. Martin

Life has no greater characteristics than love and friendship.

It was Thanksgiving night, the joyful holiday had come and gone in Elba General.

At 2:30 a.m. on Friday morning, my door opened quietly and in came an Angel of Mercy in a white uniform. In her arms was a portable record player.

Soon the room was filled with soft, quiet and soothing music. There by the record player sat the thoughtful and capable Mrs. Clarice Gunter, R.N.

Many Thanksgivings days have passed since 1965, but the efficient and considerate nurse, Clarice Gunter, is still battling on the first team. She is presently an instructor in the School of Nursing at MacArthur Technical College in Opp.

She is also on the night staff at the Laverne Hospital.

Clarice, your nursing technique shall follow you all the days of your life - innumerable have been the good deeds you have voluntarily rendered.

Today, she and her four teenagers - Andy, Renard, Lisa and Dan - are residing in the Basin Community.

This versatile family of five are not only participants but are leaders, too!

Mrs. Jill Luckie, William, Jeff and Paige of Greenville, were the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Shirley, in Brookdale recently. You can rest assured that the grands were properly entertained with every wish and want while in Elba.

Minister George Herrin has conducted a most rewarding revival at the Church of Christ in Enterprise.

Having a former Elba beauty as his wife, it was most convenient for him, Nina and George, to be lodging and board in Elba. Mrs. Lois English's home has been open to her daughter and family, the George Herrings, of Montgomery.

How you really want an evening out, just set Dothan as your destination.

These very distinguished couples - Mr. and Mrs. Bob English, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Vaughan, Dr. and Mrs. Bruno Santa Rosa, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ben DeVane, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nichols - were in attendance at the annual Clam Feast, this memorable event being held at King's Inn in Dothan.

From all reports, it was more than a feast - it was an elaborate meal. Clams, Ala. Neapolitan - Calamari En Casserole - served as a LaGrosceva service!

Any way you say it - it was seafood in a delectable manner.

Thanks to speedy air express, Southerners can now enjoy a Maine clam-bake. Were you given hand towels instead of napkins? That tipping hot butter is a bit messy!

A visit to Rosenberg's last week was almost like a reunion. There were so many friends there.

However, I must make this personal reference to Minister and Mrs. Raymond Elliott of Opp. The Elliotts were residents of our community a few short years ago. They were wide-awake Christian people, always willing and wanting to serve.

Mr. Elliott was one of the most capable PTA presidents to ever honor that position. It's nice that they are as near as Opp; and hope our paths continue to cross often.

Mrs. and Mrs. Sam Rowe of Pineville Drive, the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sammie Rowe in Panama City.

Just try to imagine the excitement and fun that the English brothers are experiencing this week. Of course there's Bobby, Brad, Brian and Boyd romping and enjoying the beach at Ft. Walton.

Mom (Mrs. Bob) is there holding down the cottage, giving motherly advice when it isn't needed, etc. However, the consumption of such things as food, drinks, wet towels are left to Mom's authority and pleasure.

Head-count and bed-check are rituals not forgotten - but with a moderate volume, TV is considered a late-night attraction!

Sharing the week's experience with the grands

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Tait, of Monroeville, Alabama, and Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Hyatt, Tampa, FL.

Mrs. Randolph Crook of Victoria Community, had the pleasure of three of her favorite aunts for a spend-the-day. They were Mrs. Robert King, Mrs. Selma Griffin, and Mrs. Nellie B. Maddox of Elba.

An informative telephone conversation with Mrs. J.C. Lewis stated that Stan, who was Peter Rabbit in my first-grade Easter play, was a member of the graduating class of Troy University. I'm so pleased, Stan - you just keep "hopping" on to bigger and better things. As to moral and spiritual ideals, he who aims at anything less than the highest aims too low.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby King and Troy were visitors to the Capitol City last week.

Our good friends up the Troy Highway at Wilkins-ton are progressing nicely. That includes all the Greens, Mrs. E.D. Douglas, Grace, Dwight, Vivian, Donald, Anita and their children, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Lowery, Denby, Sylvia, Leah, Acee James, Martha, Coley and Peggy.

Some other fine people are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peach and Mrs. Mae S. Lowery. Well, the list could go on and on. I just don't really know the population of the most northern city of Coffee County.

However, it'll take more than a few miles or an address number of birthdays for Judge Paul and the few more of us to forget the historical Wilkinstown!

Supreme - Superior - Supreme - Lovely - Lovelier and Loveliest - are a few expressions heard at the 27th-year production of the Dorothy Rainer Sellers School of Dance in Opp.

This "Theatrical Dance" was held in the auditorium of the Opp High School on June 6 and 7.

The 164 students that performed were in exquisite costumes - headpieces, tights and shoes from Taffy's, Cleveland, Ohio, and Art Stone's, New York.

This 1980 "Evening of Dance" was a fast-moving and sparkling show, with sequined backdrops, representing New York City skyline, Rockefeller Plaza and the gold curtain at Radio City Music Hall, etc.

A variety of the big-city characters - pickpockets, Kops, people on Fifth Avenue and the popular Radio City Music Hall Rockettes - were presented in dance and movement.

Having sat in theaters in New York, Chicago, Hollywood, London, Gay Paree and elsewhere, I can say that none excelled this Sellers production.

Featured performers from Elba were Margaret Cox, Michele Cox, Susan Dorsey, Karen Grider, Toni Hudson, Troy Hudson and Kathy Tucker.

Two congenious friends like Ruth Mack and Tom Morgan had an enjoyable weekend in the Atlanta area.

They crowded in many places of interest, like Callaway Gardens, Stone Mountain, and the historical mansions in Newnan, Georgia.

Too, there's Six Flags that has pleasure and excitement for all ages. Who would want to miss this experience? Not Ruth and Tom!

Mr. Weeks Honored With Luncheon

The 1776 Restaurant of the Holiday Inn in Plant City, FL, was the setting for a luncheon honoring Mr. Timothy Scott Weeks, groom of Miss Donna Murray.

The luncheon was given by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Cain, Jr., of Montgomery, AL, close friends of the Weeks family.

The menu for the luncheon consisted of green salad, roast beef, whipped potatoes, and green beans. Each plate was garnished with a slice of watermelon and parsley. Following the delicious meal, everyone enjoyed fresh strawberry sundaes, a specialty of the center Florida region.

After everyone had completed their meal, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Cain, Jr., presented the groom with a beautiful cream-colored bedspread as a wedding gift, those attending were Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Weeks.

PRESSBOX

We've got a big weekend of sports set for this week, and there's something for everyone in the family! A 9-team women's softball tournament starts Friday night and will last all day Saturday, while a 16-team men's softball tournament will also take place and last until late Saturday night. Both of the tournaments are loaded with good teams, and should be filled with action.

If you like to fish, you're in luck. There will be a bass tournament on Saturday morning for all ages, and a "Father and Son" tournament for all you family men. Plaques will be given for the various catches, and it should be a good day for fishing.

If softball and fishing aren't exciting enough, we've also got dirt-track go-kart racing and micro-midget racing. The track is in excellent shape and there should be over $20,000 in equipment battling for the checkered flag.

I hope everyone will check the schedule for all of this week's sports, and come out and support our recreation program!

A lot of local teams competed in softball tournaments last week and did real well. We've got real good teams in both the men's and women's leagues, and they're fun to watch. Come out this weekend and cheer for 'em in the Classic.

He is owned by Janet Huro and Jackie Hodge both of Elba.

Tiger Bay is, as a lot of Elba folks will remember, the "leg waving" bay horse that won the 15.2 class at the Deep South Hacking Horse Show held May 31st here in Elba. He was also Reserve Grand Champion that night in a hotly contested class with the majority of spectators cheering for Tiger Bay.

Jackie plans to campaign Bay in as many State Championships as possible with the Alabama State Show in Montgomery coming up July 12th. Your continued support will be greatly appreciated.

The Hickman Movers competed in New Brockton and swept the 10-team event undefeated to claim first place. Hickman's wins came over Pridgen & Sons 20-4, Skinner's 20-19, Little Beaver 17-10, and the Little Beaver 8-4. The Movers' Rachel Moore batted .778 (14-18) to lead the team at Grimes Oil didn't win a trophy, but did post two wins over the Piggly Wiggly, 7-0 and 8-7.

TO THE VOTERS OF ELBA:

I would like to take a few minutes of your time and state several reasons for running for mayor of the City of Elba.

My home is Elba, and has been all my life. My family has been in business in Elba for the past forty years, and I have managed the business for the last twenty years, since my father's death - so I surely have a deep-rooted interest in Elba.

There has been some very good and positive growth in Elba the last four years, and many good programs initiated, and I feel I can do a competent job carrying out these and other new ones.

Several good programs and a few new ones are:

SENIOR PROGRAM—

I would like to start a program for our elderly, shut-in and handicapped people. This would consist of the Police Department calling and checking on these people every day. A phone call to the ones who have phones, and a moment's visit to those who don't, to check on their health and welfare.

CITY LIMITS —

I would like to see the city limits extended in each direction and provide city services to all areas; but the main purpose would be for all citizens to vote in the city elections.

MULBERRY AREA—

One very important grant that has been applied for and approved is federal funding for drainage in Mulberry. This is an area that is long overdue for relief.

ON RECREATION—

Former Councilman, Mike Russell, and I persuaded Dennis Smith to come to Elba. We now have one of the best recreation programs in the entire area, and it can only get better. I have talked with Dennis at length about securing federal B.O.R. matching funds, and we are sure this can be attained by applying and working in the right direction.

I WILL APPRECIATE YOUR VOTE AND SUPPORT ON JULY 8.

THANK YOU VERY MUCH.

Jimmy Wise

Pd. Pol. Adv. by Jimmy Wise, Elba, AL.

ON THE DAM—

I am very much for the dam project, if the people of Elba are. First, this has to be proven to be feasible, and then, before any more action is taken, this entire project should be explained in complete detail to all the people of Elba - the entire cost of the project - and see if Elba can afford it. This is all loan money - not free grants - and has to be repaid.

ON INDUSTRY—

I will work in any way I can for any type of new industry; but we should not forget to take an interest and care in our present industries, and see to their needs. The extension of the Elba airport is one example of helping local industry, plus enticing new businesses.

ON SCHOOLS—

I am a firm supporter of the Elba School System, and feel we have one of the best in the state. I will continue to work for the schools, and hopefully, in the near future, we can achieve our goal of a new school.

ON THE HOSPITAL—

I have always supported our hospital and nursing home, and have made the motions for the city to support their new expansions which are due to begin in July - a sure sign of growth.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT—

I initiated the Christmas parade several years ago, and now with the help of our Jaycees, we have an annual Christmas parade.

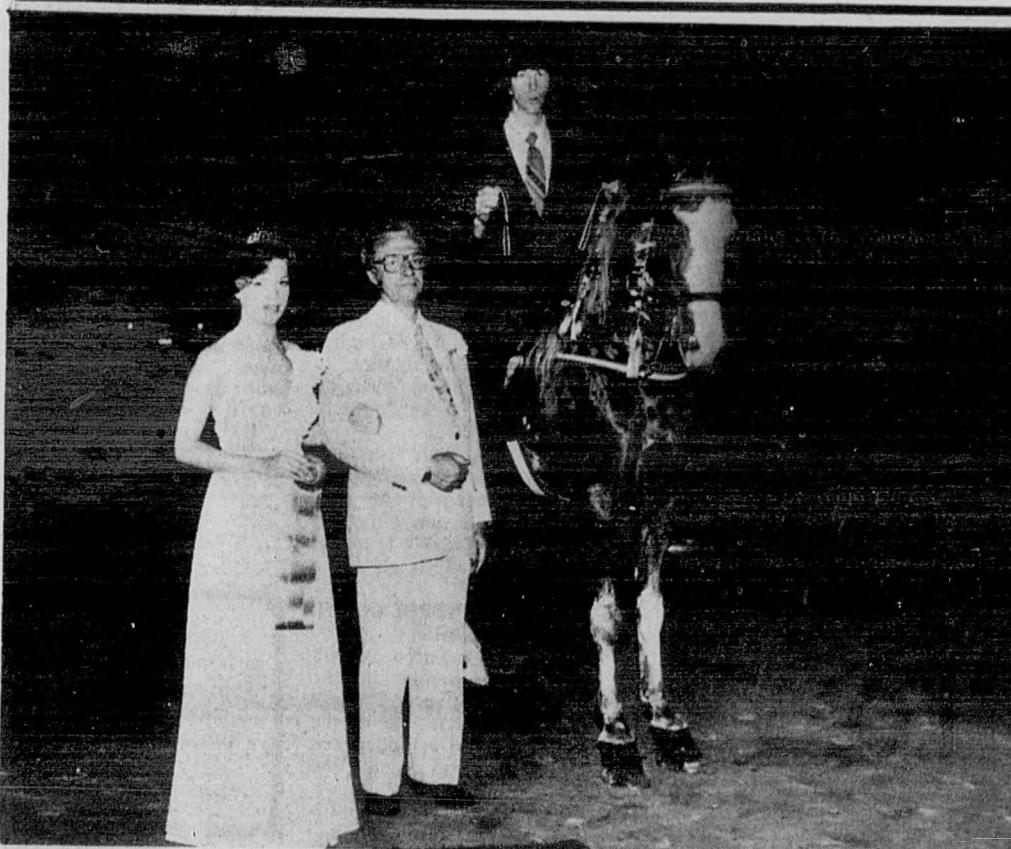

I can only say that if elected, I will do the very best of my ability to represent Elba in the progressive and forward manner in which a city should be run.

On May 31, 1980, Elba, Alabama, was host to the Second Annual Deep South Racking Horse Show. Approximately 140 entries from Alabama, Florida and Georgia turned out to claim $1870.00 in prize money. Some 2,000 spectators gathered to see some of the nation's top Racking Horses ride for the blue as they listened to Joel Camp, Vernon, AL, at the microphone and John McDonald, Collinsville, MS, at the organ. The judging was done superbly by Cliff Holladay, Hope Hull, AL, while Bennie Joe Dunaway, New Brockton, AL, did an outstanding job as Ringmaster. Elba's own Tim Bradshaw, who did a fantastic job putting this show together, was busy from start to finish as he efficiently served as Show Manager. The Elba Volunteer Fire Department, sponsor of the show, provided some of the best food to be found in the South. A short show was delightfully filled by local talent... seven year old Matt Morrow kept the spectators and exhibitors spellbound as he did his interpretation of Jerry Clowers. Serving capably as ribbon girls were: Nita Calhoun, Debbie Williams, Cenia Hayes, Susan Dorsey, and Kelly Gulleuge. Serving as escorts: Greg Ellenburg, Donnie Stinson, and Roby Benefield. Presentation of the colors was made by Kim Bradshaw atop her mount, EYE'S PRIDE, as Mrs. John McDonald sang the National Anthem.

The blue ribbon in the Aged Mare Class was won by KELLY'S LOVELY LADY with Jack Brewer up for D. H. McNair, Albany, GA. Reserve honors went to CHARLIE'S ANGEL P and Billy Parker, Lanett, AL.

The 15.2 Class was a crowd pleaser as TIGER BAY with Jack Hodge up for Janet Hurd and Jack Hodge, Elba, put on an outstanding performance to claim first place honors. Reserve was won by THE MAGIC STROKER with Donald Dillard up for Barbara Neal, Albany, GA.

The Style Class was won by INTRUDER'S DEACON with Henry Wheeler up for Wheeler and the SHARP SHOOTER with Wayne Wilson up for Bobby Collins, Clanton, AL took second place.

The Ladies Class is always one of the most competitive classes and Cheryl McCrory, Pensacola, was just that as she capably rode TOUCH OF CLASS for the Ladies blue. Becky Teal, Enterprise, astride DOCTOR T rode hard to tie reserve. One of the biggest classes of the night, Amateur, Owned & Trained, found THE CALICO KID with Danny Oglesby up for Fred Oglesby, Elba, in the winners circle with a big blue. THAT'S BUCKWHEAT with M. M. Brassewell up for Farm Hill Stables, Cantonment, FL, tied reserve.

Gulleuge Wood Products' new stallion, BEAU NITE'S SENSATION, continues to be in the winner circle as his capable trainer, Jack Brewer, Elba, successfully rode for the blue in Aged Stallions and Geldings Class. SOUTHERN LOVIN' and owner Lucy Ann Rice, Opelika, tied a firm reserve in this class.

The Men's Racking blue was claimed by FLAMING SPIRIT with Mack Hess up for Ken Jackson, Opelika. Reserve went to THE STOMPER with Joe Tittle up for James C. Adams, Brundidge.

ALL AROUND COFFEE COUNTY

County Farm Agent TOM CASADAY

URGENT

Unless some kind of miracle happens, Coffee County producers are going to continue to lose money on hogs the rest of this year.

Unless a grower makes a good yield of soybeans (25 bushels or above), he will not make a very much profit. Chances are that soybeans will be about 20-25 percent lower in price than last year. Only about one-half to two-thirds of the Coffee County corn crop was ever planted, and the dry, hot weather is ruining a lot of the older corn.

About the only chance I can see for Coffee County farmers to make a profit is by peanuts. In order to break even, growers will need to make a good yield. Any profits made this year from peanuts will have to come from above average yields.

I tell every group that I see that it is in the best interest of the people for farmers to make a decent profit. If he makes a profit, he can stay in business, we are assured of a continuous supply of high-quality food at a moderate price. If he can't stay in business, shortages will develop and prices will skyrocket. So it is extremely important that farmers, both here in Coffee County and throughout the country, make a profit. There is no question about it. Many, many farmers here and elsewhere are struggling to keep afloat.

TOMATO PROBLEMS

Bro. Allen of our staff works a lot on gardens and ornamental horticulture. She and I are seeing quite a few tomatoes suffering from either a magnesium deficiency or a calcium deficiency. These deficiencies sometimes appear more readily during dry weather.

Tomato plants with a magnesium deficiency have yellow spots with green veins on the lower leaves. The leaf margins on the lower leaves curl.

Tomatoes suffering from a calcium deficiency usually have blossom end rot. This shows up as a dark, sunken spot on the bottom side of the tomatoes.

You can correct the magnesium deficiency by spraying your tomatoes with 4 tablespoons of calcium chloride. Spray directly on the plants.

If you are having a specific problem with your tomatoes, call Brenda at 894-5596 or 897-2776.

SIGNIFICANT

Alabama has the excellent beginnings of a truly great 4-H Club Center. Eight of us from Coffee County attended the formal dedication there this past Monday. The Center is located in Shelby County about half way between Montgomery and Birmingham. In fact, as you drive from Montgomery to Birmingham, you exit at the Lay Dam exit just north of Clanton (Highway 145).

The Center is located on 100 acres on Lay Lake. It is a beautiful setting. In the years ahead additions will be made to the center.

made to the Center making it an unbelievably beautiful facility for Alabama 4-H Club members and other youth groups.

The main thing that makes me extremely proud is the fact that about 17 years ago through the leadership of several Coffee County businessmen, this county raised over $25,000 as our part in building this facility. After all of these years, the brick and mortar is a reality.

GOOD BUY

From Seattle, WA, to Saco, ME, consumers are getting some great bargains in peanuts. In order to break even, growers will need to make a good yield. Any profits made this year from peanuts will have to come from above average yields.

I tell every group that I see that it is in the best interest of the people for farmers to make a decent profit. #### CROPS SCOUTING SCHOOL

Folks in this county who are interested in learning how to scout crops for insects, diseases, and weeds will have an opportunity this week. The annual Scout School will begin at 9:00 a.m. Tuesday, June 17, and will conclude on Wednesday, June 18.

The first day will be primarily classroom work on peanut and soybean insects and diseases. The second day will be devoted to practice in the field. If you are interested in this program, meet us at the Experiment Station at Headland Tuesday morning, June 17.

The Annual Weed Control Field Day at the Headland Station will be Tuesday, June 24. This meeting will begin at 9:00 and end with a lunch at 12 noon.

Farmers Eligible To Receive Disaster Protection

Farmers who accurately report crop acreages on a sign up to participate in the farm program will not only be eligible for price support benefits and deficiency payment, they will also be eligible to receive disaster protection.

The 1980 program provides for disaster payments to help farmers whose crops are severely damaged by weather conditions, according to R. L. Day, Chairman of the Coffee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committee.

Farmers who plant within their normal crop acreage (NCA) will be eligible to receive disaster payments based on a higher target level than those who exceed their NCA," he explained.

Wheat and feed grain producers who crop yield is less than 60 percent of the established yield times the acreage planted for harvest may receive disaster payments on the production losses below 60 percent. For rice and upland cotton producers, this payment is based on production losses below 75 percent.

Further details on payment provisions may be found in the local ASCS office.

Many folk find it difficult to control weight in the middle years, even though they still participate in the same physical activities and eat the same kind and amount of food.

Many factors can contribute to "middle-age spread." One is that the metabolic rate normally declines as a person ages. Thus, the basic requirement for energy declines slightly.

The major cause, however, is the change in the body's composition. As a person ages, the percentage of fat in the body increases. This extra fat makes the direct statement that the advertisers are Many things which happen to your feet are caused by ill-fitting footwear. So choose your shoes carefully to prevent problems.

Request that your feet be measured before you buy a pair of shoes. At times shoes that are tight may be stretched, eased, or padded. But, if this doesn't improve your foot condition discard the shoes.

Keep your feet healthy by keeping them cool and dry. Waterproof your shoes with foot powder or any of the foot antiperspirant sprays.

Gospel Singing & Antique To Be Held At Camp Shannon

A Gospel Singing and Antique Auction for fund raising at Camp Shannon will be held at 6:00 p.m. The singers will be: The Billy Davis Family of Lurvenne; The Loyd Hodge Family of Lurvenne; The Joyfuls of Louisville. The Camp is located 2 and 1/4 miles Southeast of Glenwood.

Throughout the Bible, you will find that they who lived for God had to fight many battles. Paul instructed: "All that will live godly shall suffer persecution." (II Timothy 3:12). So then it can be said that being a Christian doesn't mean you will be free of all adversities.

Isaiah wrote, "No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall condemn thee shall be brought down: thou shalt condemn the oppressor, and thou shalt say, I will not see thee any more: for thou art the man of my peace." (Isaiah 54:17). Weapons will be formed against all Christians, and no one need expect to escape. When you try to go forward, the enemy is going to try and stop your progress. Each time Israel tried to go forward in the wilderness, Satan would find some way to stop or slow their progress.

Satan is doing all in his power to destroy the progress of every born-again believer. The world is being deceived by the devil. He is trying to lead us away from God. Like Job, if we as believers, turn not our face from the Lord, we will end up with more than we have been given. (Job 1:25).

There will be war of the will. Even though many weapons are formed against us, we are the Smith Family and The Kings Four. Everyone is invited to attend.
